This is a story of major change within this world we assume we understand and many other worlds of which we currently know nothing. It is the tale of two brilliant scientists (soon to be married) who, in the 2040s, unexpectedly solve all the greatest riddles and mysteries of the ages with . . . one simple invention. Their newly invented device unexpectedly unifies physics and the 4 forces of nature, thus vindicating and fulfilling Einstein's most ambitious dreams. As a direct result, our protagonists are led to meet Mankind's progenitor; an entity they nickname UnK, who assists them with ever deeper and more profound discoveries. UnK (which is short for Universal Knowledge) refuses to be called God. But; with UnK's help and guidance, the trio rapidly advances mankind's technology by 3000 years. In so doing they collaborate to further advance our planet by marrying religion with science. Additionally, along the way, Molly and Dev make many other discoveries, including proof of how life is disseminated throughout the Cosmos and what occurs beyond death. Read and think as all of mankind's other mysteries crumble and fall away, one by one, . . . like a house of cards. It's a fascinating futuristic journey into: What if. By the mid-2020s, science and religion had reached a stalemated-standoff or impasse regarding the truth and proof of mankind's arrival, existence, purpose and demise. Our brilliant couple; both with genius-level IQs and a stack of degrees from MIT and Harvard, inadvertently prove the seemingly improvable theories of Force Field Unification (or Brane Theory, to be more specific). In the 21st Century...
