The selection and arrangement of theorems is such as to meet the general demand of teachers, as expressed through the Mathematical Associations of the country. Most of the proofs have been given in full. Proofs of some of the easier theorems and constructions are left as exercises for the student, or are given in an incomplete form; but in every case in which the proof is not complete, the incompleteness is specifically stated. The authors believe that the proofs of most of the propositions should be complete, first, in order to serve as models for the handling of exercises; second, to prevent the serious error of making the student feel contented with loose and slipshod reasoning which defeats the main purpose of instruction in geometry; and third, as an excellent means of reviewing the previous theorems on which they depend.
