The writings herein are the words the Holy Spirit placed in my heart, and I believe they serve a divine purpose. In Words from the Pew, Charles E. Martin works through a variety of subjects in Scripture, drawing from a number of commentaries and his own writings from daily devotionals. Inspired to write during his time as a Sunday-school teacher, Martin puts the challenges of the Christian journey in layman s terms, writing of his own personal understanding and the inspiration of the Holy Spirit to provide an everyday perspective on God, His Son, and what it means to be a Christian. When God opens a door, Martin says, it is the responsibility of every Christian to follow in His will. Words from the Pew opens a door to readers, inviting them in to experience God s Word from Martin s point of view and providing a sound foundation for further research on subjects that peak their interest. About the Author Charles E. Martin is a former Sunday-school teacher and retired Master Sergeant from the United States Air Force. Serving faithfully for over twenty-one years, his active-duty service spanned the Vietnam era and all three phases of the first Gulf War: Desert Shield, Desert Storm, and Desert Calm. After his retirement from the Air Force, he earned a bachelor s degree in Business Administration from Texas Southern University, going on to eventually retire from the United States Postal Service. Martin is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and AMVETS. He has been married to his wife, Betty, for thirty-one years, and his daughter is an ordained minister.
