

Crawl, Fade to White (Paperback)

By Sheila Callaghan

Samuel French Inc, United States, 2010. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Samuel French Acting ed.. 200 x 122 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Comedy / 2m, 3f / Simple Set A scream is heard throughout the stratosphere. It is the voice of the lamp. Louise is selling this expensive family heirloom to keep her daughter April in school and cease her more sordid consultant profession. April rushes home with lover in tow to halt the proceedings and save the lamp, but it has been intercepted by a quiet and bizarre middle-aged couple with a haunting secret. Attempts to reclaim the lamp are made, as a misplaced father slowly fades to white in the background. .A gutsy writer with a gift for creating vivid images rooted in the emotional life of her characters. - The New York Times .Troubled and precocious college dropout April is described to her mother, Louise, as stunningly brilliant - a line that fits her creator, Sheila Callaghan. The odd characters populating Crawl, Fade to White frantically eat dirt and twist menacingly. Audiences trying to process this engagingly quirky new play might find themselves gaping like they re watching the cosmos disrobe...
